PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

As I look over the membership of NASC, I realize just how many of you I know and consider friends. Have you ever stopped to think how many of these fellow collectors you would not have known if it were not for this thing we call numismatics? I have met some of my best friends through our hobby, and I suspect most of you have similar experiences to relate. Just think of the value you attach to these friends...and the loss you would suffer if you had never known them.

My own life would have been much diminished without dear friends like Bryan Burke, Dan Harley, etc. I really cannot imagine things being the same without this circle of friends. If I attended a numismatic gathering I would expect to see many there that I could call by name, and I would feel something was missing in the blank space left by those not attending.

Many years ago, and longer than I care to admit, I had a fine example of such friendship. At that time I was busily collecting British colonial crowns and had managed to acquire nearly a complete collection. One joker was in the deck, as usual — a 1935 piece from New Zealand called a Waitangi. It was a rare and expensive coin that I could not afford, and I was sad that I was unable to complete my set.

It looked like my job would require a move to Santa Barbara and I had already been there house hunting. Those side-kicks of mine, mentioned above, along with Fred Coops, decided to get me the much desired Waitangi crown as a going away gift.

I knew nothing of this intended gift of friendship since the move was canceled and I stayed put. I never saw the prized Waitangi, as it was returned to wherever they got it. And I was never able to purchase one for myself. However, over the years my Waitangi has become a standing joke among the four of us. I am still waiting for my Waitangi.

P.S. What brought all this to mind is that Fred Coops recently pressed a large coin into my hand. It was a Waitangi crown dated 1990. Now called a dollar, it was a commemorative of the earlier commemorative. Fred laughed and said, "You now have a Waitangi." Indeed I do, thanks to numismatic friends.

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

Welcome to the Spring 1991 issue of the NASC Quarterly! There is much to be excited about, and it's hoped that the issue you hold in your hands will convey some of this excitement, as we focus on the Golden State Show and the NASC Breakfast.

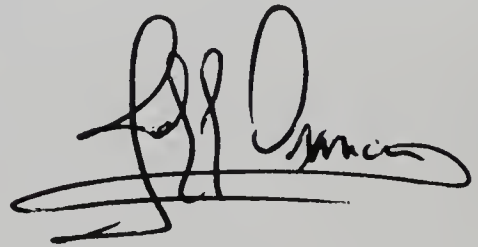

These days we often hear of the lack of effort and commitment on the part of members in most club organizations. But here, we can applaud the incredible efforts of a large number of individuals who made the Show and Breakfast possible. Obviously, there was a tremendous amount of behind-the-scenes work to produce such a success. We thank each one who generously contributed their time and energies.

Many things will remain in my mind, long after the show has ended — the friendly people, including volunteers, dealers, and Show visitors, who generated such a positive image for the hobby; the array of first-rate Exhibits in the Exhibit Room; impressive auction material offered for sale by the prestigious firm of Bowers & Merena; and most notably, the NASC Breakfast, where Hal Stanbridge gave his excellent talk about the circumstances surrounding the fabled 1804 "King of Siam" presentation set. The breakfast, organized by Dr. Walt Ostromecki, represented a fine opportunity for me to present literary awards to our many excellent writers in the NASC.

Beginning a new year, this is also an excellent time for us to listen to you. What would you like the NASC to be doing, to make your participation more meaningful? What would you like to see in the Quarterly, that's not there now? Your suggestions are important in planning for the year ahead, so make your voice heard!

And lastly, I would personally like to thank the officers of the NASC, as well as you, the membership, for your support and encouragement during the first year of my job as Editor. Every member of the NASC can be proud of what the club has accomplished during its first three decades. Looking down the road, I can envision even greater achievements ahead. Join us in that future!

NATE BROMBERG MEMORIAL FUND

Although Nate Bromberg passed away in April of 1990, he is widely remembered for his unselfish devotion to the education and promotion of young numismatists. And as long as his health continued, his advocacy of young collectors was an inspiration to those around him in the hobby.

To insure that this legacy would continue, the Israel Council of Southern California established a fund, entitled the Nate Bromberg Memorial Fund, for the sole purpose of promoting numismatics to young hobbyists.

The exciting announcement for friends of Nate Bromberg and the Numismatic Association of Southern California is that administration of the fund has now been transferred to the NASC, according to Israel Numismatics Council of Southern California president, Jerry Yahalom.

It is hoped that other contributions will follow, and his memory will continue to live on through his friends in the hobby.

THE NEW NASC BANNER

Thanks to the incredible efforts of William J. Grant the NASC has an impressive new banner. Bill, it looked great at the Golden State Show!

THE GOLDEN STATE SHOW

The Banquet and Forums

By Dr. Tom Fitzgerald

A "Teddy Bear Picnic" was the theme of the Golden State Show's banquet. Ethel Lenhert, hostess of the occasion, presented a fun-filled evening with a "Teddy Bear" motif. The table decorations detailed a picnic for the bears while each guest was presented with a pin-on teddy bear to be worn on his or her dress or coat. A good time was had by all.

The festivities started on a very serious note, however, as Master of Ceremonies Dr. Tom Fitzgerald had those in attendance observe a moment of silence for our armed forces involved in the Gulf. This was followed by all present singing "America" and reciting the Pledge of Allegiance.

The Society for International Numismatics presented two of that organization's prestigious medals of merit. The first was presented to a surprised and delighted Nona Moore, a long time Southern California hobby leader and dealer. Mrs. Moore, a past president of the Numismatic Association of Southern California, has donated hundreds of hours to local clubs including serving years as secretary of the Fontana United Numismatists. The second winner of the SIN's medal of merit was renowned researcher and writer, Walter Breen. Mr. Breen had been a speaker at the SIN meeting scheduled during the show.

The Numismatic Association of Southern California presented their annual Goodson Award, the traditional recognition to the NASC member who has contributed significant service to the hobby. The winner this year was Dr. Sol Taylor, a past president of the NASC. He is well known for his work with Lincoln cent collectors and their Society which he heads.

Charles Colver introduced the newest Numismatic Ambassador Award, Mr. Murray Singer, another past president of the NASC. His award was received by all in attendance with a standing ovation. The exhibit awards followed with the "Best-of-Show" award, named after the late Nate Bromberg, going to William Grant who displayed some beautiful Lindburgh medals.

Educational Forums

The Golden State Educational Forum on Friday evening presented writer David Lange from San Francisco. Lange talked about the story behind our nation's numismatic collection housed in the Smithsonian Institution. His talk was entitled "Evolution of the National Numismatic Collection."

The California Exonumist Society, an organization that meets during the Golden State and California State shows presented a talk by their immediate past president, Phil Iversen. He told the fascinating story of "The Case of the Misplaced Soda Token."

The International Primitive Money Society featured Al Hall speaking on one of his specialties, the "Siamese Bullet Money of Rama IV." As mentioned earlier, Walter Breen appeared at the meeting of the Society for International Numismatics and conducted his now well-known program of answering questions from those in attendance.

On Sunday morning, the NASC Breakfast was the occasion as Hal

Stanbridge described the famous and mysterious set of proof coins that are part of the "King of Siam Legend." The Glendale, San Gabriel Valley and Verdugo Hills coin clubs joined together for a meeting Sunday afternoon where Dr. Shelby Wagner took everyone back to the time of the California Gold Rush. His topic was "The Perilous Dilemma Facing the '49ers." No, he wasn't talking about the football 49ers! Later in the day, the Israel Numismatic Council of Southern California heard COIN President, Jerry Yahalom, talk about the "Medallic Jerusalem."

1990 NASC LITERARY AWARDS

It is, indeed, a pleasure for me, as Editor of the NASC Quarterly, to recognize the contributions of those who make the Quarterly possible — our outstanding numismatic writers. A tip of the hat goes to each one of you!

The Karl M. Brainard Memorial Literary awards, as stated in Fall/Winter issue of the Quarterly, are NASC's oldest non-exhibit awards, having been given annually since the 1965 convention. These awards are given to the three best original articles published during a given year. And now, with a drum-roll please, the winners for 1990 are:

First Place: Dr. Sol Taylor
"Rarest Lincoln Cents"

Second Place: Virginia Hall
"Early Financial Institutions and Charter Banks of San Bernardino"

Third Place: Martha Stevenson
"Assay Commission Ends."

The NASC also recognizes the best article dealing with ancient coinage, encompassing Roman, Greek, and Byzantine material. This year's winner is Dr. Tom Fitzgerald, who wrote an excellent article entitled: "The World's Most Beautiful Coins." Congratulations!

Each contributor to the Quarterly was honored at this year's NASC Awards Breakfast, and each was presented a special convention medal, portraying the same motif as the regular show medals, but struck in pure copper. Production of these special medals was limited to a very small number, according to Al Hall, who was in charge of arranging for the Show medals. (Thanks Al!)

Others receiving literary recognition included:

Martha Stevenson	Dillon Frost	Virginia Hall
Dr. Walt Ostomecki	Ronald Muzzy	Robin Mathias
Dr. Sol Taylor	Tom Barosko	Bob Wilhite
	Helen Carmody

In addition, Charles Colver, as NASC President, wrote a column for each issue of the Quarterly last year; Steve Davis supplied the calendar of events; and Lynda Richard handled the circulation. Each received a medal, as well.

And so we celebrate another year of the Quarterly. Let me add my voice to the chorus of others who have commented that the articles for 1990 were exceptional!

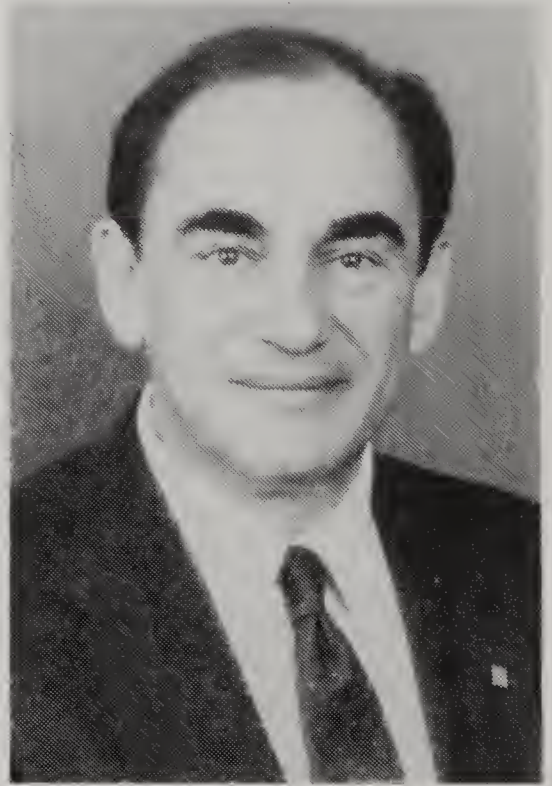

SOL TAYLOR RECEIVES NASC'S HIGHEST AWARD

Amid well-deserved applause, Dr. Sol Taylor, NASC's 21st President, received the coveted Richard P. Goodson award at the annual awards breakfast January 27, 1991. This important honor is given each year to one or more individuals in recognition of their long-standing contributions to the Numismatic Association of Southern California.

Named for former NASC President, Richard Goodson, the award is symbolized by a huge perpetual trophy which was donated to the NASC by the Mar Vista Coin Club in 1967. It was first awarded to Charles M. Johnson, and since then, NASC has named 24 others (including two husband-wife teams and two in 1970) for the award. Usually the announcement of the recipient is held at the very end of the awards ceremony as the highlight presentation.

In each case, the awardee was notable for his or her contribution to numismatics. Among the past recipients were: Abe Kosoff, Peggy Borgolte, Karl Brainard, Herbert Bergen, Maurice M. Gould, Murray Singer, Walter Synder, Thomas H. Wood, George Bennett, and Richard Yeoman.

Dr. Taylor was nominated for the award by several members for his long and distinguished service to the NASC. Before his tenure as President in 1975-76, he served NASC as Exhibits Chairman, Board member, and Vice President. He hosted the last ANA convention held in Los Angeles in 1975. And during his 26 years with NASC, he visited over 100 NASC member clubs as guest speaker.

He was active in the Whittier Coin Club from 1961 through the 1970's and served four times as President. He founded the club newsletter in 1963 and edited every issue for thirteen consecutive years. He designed and distributed the club's first souvenir card, the club medal for its tenth anniversary, and a second souvenir card for its 30th anniversary. He holds WCC Life Membership #2.

Taylor joined the ANA in 1964 and recently received his silver 25th anniversary pin. He contributed to the ANA Correspondence Course and taught three times at the ANA Summer Seminars from 1975-1977. He has published in the ANA Journal (The Numismatist), and frequently writes for other publications, as well.

Taylor is a regular contributor to the NASC Quarterly, has contributed an article in almost every year since 1964, a feat that probably unsurpassed. Taylor holds more than a dozen Karl Brainard Awards for his articles.

And the list goes on! Taylor was responsible for obtaining the first of many contracts to have Bowers and Ruddy (now Merena) conduct their winter auction at NASC. Taylor also hosted the first NASC Workshop and was a featured speaker at several others. Taylor is one of the contributors to the Official ANA Grading Guide. And along with Gordon Z. Greene, Taylor designed the 1975 ANA convention medal. In recognition of his accomplishments, Taylor holds over 100 certificates and awards from the ANA and regional numismatic organizations.

Taylor is currently a realtor and his numismatic focus is on the Society of Lincoln Cent Collectors, which he founded in 1982 and has served as president ever since. For his lifetime of achievement, the Numismatic Association of Southern California congratulates this year's Richard P. Goodson award winner, Dr. Sol Taylor.

Jeff Oxman, NASC Editor, congratulates 1990 Karl M. Brainard Literary Award winner, Dr. Sol Taylor.

ANDREW PORTNOY — 1990 “CORKY” AYERS JUNIOR ACHIEVEMENT AWARD WINNER

When it comes to actively promoting coin collecting, whether it be at club meetings or to fellow students at his school, this year's Junior Achievement Award winner is outstanding.

For the past two years Andrew's interest in numismatics has grown rapidly. He has already introduced two other young friends to coin collecting, both of whom are now members of the Culver City Coin Club.

His activities on behalf of the Culver City Coin Club were brought to the attention of the ANA Headquarters by Regional Director, Helen Carmody. As a result, Andrew was awarded one of only two 1990 ANA Summer Seminar Scholarships in Colorado Springs. There, he excelled at grading U.S. silver dollars.

Recognizing his almost unlimited energies in coin collecting, the ANA selected him as a Page for the 1990 ANA Convention in Seattle. He learned even more!

His current plans call for organizing a coin club at Loyola High School, with the sponsorship of English teacher, Terry Caldwell.

The list of criteria for selecting the recipient for the Galvin “Corky” Ayers Memorial Junior Achievement award begins: “This award will be given to the outstanding young numismatist in Southern California.” There is none more deserving than this year's award winner, and the NASC is particularly proud to present the Galvin “Corky” Ayers to ANDREW PORTNOY!

Editor's Note: This biographical sketch is based on Andrew's introduction at the NASC Awards Breakfast on January 27, 1991.

THE BOOK AND I

By Murray Singer

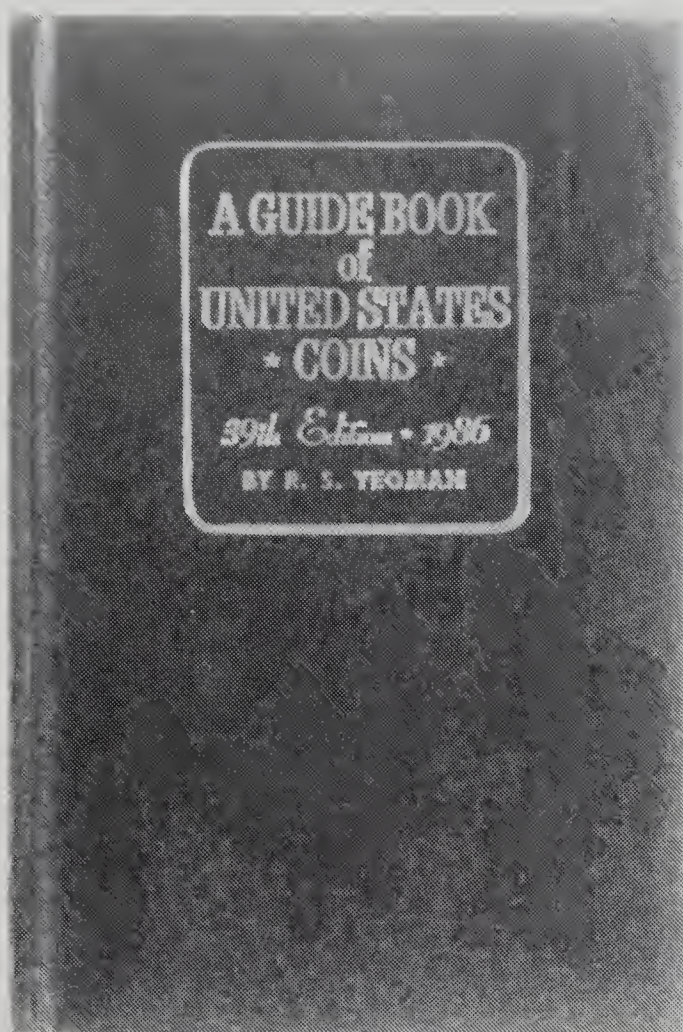

I believe one of my most treasured numismatic possessions is a complete set of "RED BOOKS" individually autographed by the author, Richard S. Yeoman. Officially titled "A GUIDEBOOK OF UNITED STATES COINS," my Red Book collection consists of 42 volumes — the 1947 1st, through the 1988 41st editions.

I don't know how many other autographed complete sets are around. I know of one owned locally by Elizabeth Wisslead and I believe there may be a number of others, although the early editions are relatively scarce. Mr. Yeoman was most gracious and obliging and highly visible at almost all major coin conventions. However, no matter how many others exist, mine is unique in the numismatic sense — meaning one and only one. No other set is personally autographed and inscribed to MURRAY SINGER.

I bought my first Red Book in late 1952 which was the 1952-53 5th edition. The following July, when the 6th edition was issued, I was doing business with a downtown Los Angeles coin dealer, Samuel Koeppel who had upstairs offices in a West 8th Street combined bank and office building. Mr. Koeppel had a customer relations gimmick of taking last year's Red Book plus $.75 in trade for the new one as soon as the new issue arrived. Regular price of the book at the time was $1.50. This was simply a good will gesture on Mr. Koeppel's part as 'old' Red Books had no value then since even the 1st edition was only six years old. So I traded in my 5th edition that year and my 6th the next. It wasn't until a year later in 1954, that I decided to keep my old book. This was the 7th in the series. Incidentally, the 5th edition that I traded is currently one of the scarcest and most valuable of the series. Only the first and second issues command a higher premium.

My introduction to Richard Yeoman occurred in 1958 at the ANA Convention in Los Angeles. The Los Angeles Coin Club was the host club. I was a club board member and was appointed to the ANA Convention Steering Committee. I subsequently held the office of Convention Treasurer. This was my first national convention and I was tremendously impressed and exhilarated by meeting and socializing with the ANA brass and the many renowned numismatic personalities of the period who were in attendance. Then, too, the bourse room was filled with legendary dealers whose names appeared constantly in the pages of the Numismatist and the Numismatic Scrapbook, the primary publications of the time. My introduction to Mr. Yeoman was one of the Convention highlights. His greeting was polite and friendly and we exchanged a few pleasantries. I was thrilled to meet the author of the prestigious "Guide Book.” The following year at the Numismatic Association of Southern California Convention, Mr. Yeoman and I stood chatting in the Bourse room when someone came up to him, Red Book in hand, and requested an autograph. Mr. Yeoman did so with a smile and I thought how nice it would be for me to have my book autographed also. This I accomplished before the end of the show.

Mr. Yeoman attended the NASC Convention each year just as he made it a point to attend most major shows and for the next couple of NASC shows I brought my current book to him for his signature. After a time I felt that I knew him better and I took the liberty of bringing along a couple of my previous editions. I never brought more than two extra books so as not to appear to take advantage and he always graciously accommodated me. In time I had his signature back to the 7th (1954-55) edition which was the first one I owned. It was then I decided to buy the earlier ones. At the time the 1st through 6th editions commanded a small premium but were still very reasonably priced if you could locate them. It took a little time, but in the next few years I always had one or two of these plus my current book for Mr. Yeoman to sign. Eventually I had them all.

Over a 30 year period we developed our friendship. Ours was actually only a casual one based mainly upon a genuine liking and mutual respect. After all, we met only two or sometimes three times a year at NASC, California State or ANA conventions. In rare instances we ran into each other at some other numismatic event — Mr. Yeoman attended most of them — and we always spent a little time together talking and exchanging views or discussing the state of the “HOBBY” — he never referred to it as a business or industry. I always looked forward to our little visits.

In 1988 Mr. Yeoman missed attending the NASC convention. I believe there was an illness in his family. He was scheduled a little later, however, as a featured speaker at a California State symposium here in Southern California. I couldn’t attend but asked a friend to take my Red Book with him to the meeting for Mr. Yeoman’s autograph and I sent along a note of thanks with my request. My friend

An Exciting Announcement!

NASC SLIDE PROGRAMS

The Numismatic Association of Southern California, in its role as a resource for NASC member clubs, is pleased to announce the immediate availability of 11 new slide show programs.

Actually, the slide presentations themselves are not new, having been a valuable asset for the NASC some years ago. But the fact that their original glass mounts will not fit in modern 80/tray Kodak carousel projectors rendered them unusable. Now, in a major undertaking by Phil Iversen, Chairman of the Visual Education Library, the eleven programs listed below have been successfully transferred to standard cardboard mounts.

And there's still more good news. Additional programs, many of which are considered irreplaceable, have been selected for conversion from glass to cardboard mounts. As they are completed, notice will be posted in the Quarterly.

Requests to borrow any of the currently available slide programs should be directed to: PHIL IVERSEN, P.O. Box 5207, Sherman Oaks, CA 91413-5207. Please note that it is helpful to indicate a Second Choice, in case your first preference is not available.

AVAILABLE NASC SLIDE PROGRAM TITLES:

- HISTORY OF COLONIAL CURRENCY - 51 Color Slides; Narration Text; Evolution of currency in America as traced by colonial notes.
- UNITED STATES PAPER MONEY, 1861-1923 - 39 Color Slides; Narration Text; Illustrated by $5.00 notes of the period.
- UNITED STATES PAPER MONEY, 1861-1923 - 38 Color Slides; Narration Text; Illustrated by $10.00 Notes of the Period.
- TYPES OF POSTAGE AND FRACTIONAL CURRENCY - 29 Color Slides; Narration Text; Major types from first issue in 1862 through fifth issue in 1876.

FOUR U.S. MINT SUPERINTENDENTS GATHER

By Dr. Walter Ostromecki, Jr., NLG

All four Mint Superintendents pose during historic meeting.

LOLLAPALOOZA — a word my mother used to describe great and wonderful things — fits as a fine description for the gathering of FOUR U.S. MINT SUPERINTENDENTS on February 5, 1991 in the South Counting Room of the Granite Lady, San Francisco. Attending were: Carol Marshall, San Francisco Mint; Barbara McTurk, Denver Mint; John Martino, Philadelphia Mint; and Bert Corneby, West Point Mint.

This historic numismatic event — the first such gathering possible in 81 years — was hosted at the Old San Francisco Mint by Superintendent

Carol Mayer Marshall. With an eye toward the historical importance of the moment, Marshall noted that the New Orleans Mint closed in 1909, leaving only three in operation. The San Francisco Mint closed in 1955, leaving two. Then, in 1988, the West Point Facility was redesignated a Mint and the San Francisco Assay Office was reinstated as a Mint...bringing the total back up to four.

In her welcoming statement, Mrs. Marshall said, "Almost one year ago we had a party in the adjoining room following my swearing-in ceremony as Superintendent of the San Francisco Mint. Since then, we (at the San Francisco Mint) have come a long way.” She went on to thank the 50 or so Mint employees for their dedication, support, and humor during the past year.

“I am delighted to have my colleagues here tonight,” Mrs. Marshall continued. “I could say much about each one, but I think you would enjoy meeting each one up here, individually.” She then introduced Barbara McTurk of the Denver Mint, the longest serving of the four Superintendents.

Mrs. McTurk, commenting that it is not often that the Mint Superintendents get together except by phone, went on to describe Denver’s proud history and the present work going on to expand the visitor’s entrance to the facilities.

Next up was John Martino, Superintendent of the Philadelphia Mint. Mr. Martino remarked, “Remember the Philadelphia Mint occupies a unique place in the history of the Mint. It was the first! — The first to be established, the first to have a Superintendent, the first to strike coins, the first to have a President visit, the first to be closed by yellow fever, etc. Philadelphia is also the mother of all the other Mints. I doubt any other facility or Superintendent could equal this colorful history, even if you stayed in office for the next hundred years! Seriously, though,” he continued, “the Philadelphia Mint acted as the nucleus for our early republic. It gave stability to our country and the means to build our economy. It became a center of (coinage) quality which you all have come to recognize.”

Last on the agenda was Bert Corneby, Superintendent of the West Point Mint and ‘the most junior member’ of the group, (having been confirmed as Superintendent on October 30, 1990). “It’s a real pleasure for me to be in San Francisco, but I come from the Land of Gold, West Point, New York. We have the real thing unlike these gold foil covered replicas on the table! Again, I consider it a real pleasure to be here and to be part of the Mint family as John said earlier. West Point is the newest minting facility and many of you may not know much about its operations. Well, I’m learning too. I’ll be glad to talk with you individually about my Mint at the conclusion of this program.”

It was great for me to be part of numismatic history in the making! And all four Superintendents were eager to learn more about the coin collecting hobby from the dozen representatives of the California numismatic community. Just before the reception began at 5:00 p.m., this author met with the four Superintendents, and in a private ceremony presented each with a special souvenir card commemorating the event.¹

Earlier, Superintendent Marshall had introduced a special guest, Deputy Mint Director, David Riter, who brought greetings from Donna Pope in Washington. Adding humor to the proceedings, he recalled his visit last year to the Leningrad Mint (USSR), where he passed a coin press literally spewing out rubles onto the floor. Sur-

Upland Coin Club - Editor Ethel Lenhert accepted the NASC President's Trophy at the Breakfast during the Golden State Coin Show. This award recognizes the best newsletter or bulletin of a NASC member club during 1990. Congratulations to Ethel for a well-deserved honor.

Hemet Numismatists - This club started the year of 1991 announcing the publication of their 100th edition of their club bulletin. We look forward to the next 100.

San Bernardino County Coin Club - It was reported that good weather, good crowd, and over 100 tables of coins, stamps, sport cards, collectibles, etc. resulted in a great show the first week of January, 1991. The club is busy planning their next one. Congratulations to past NASC president and show chairman, Al Hall.

Culver City Coin Club - What would you do if you received a telephone call from the restaurant two days prior to your installation banquet that the dining place is closed? Kay Northam and Walt Ostromecki went to work and persuaded the restaurant to open for only the club's event. When the 49 guest and members arrived that evening, all were served a great meal including two steaks, extra salads, potatoes, etc. Needless to say, a great time was had by all.

Joint Club Meeting - The Glendale Coin Club, San Gabriel Valley Coin Club, and the Verdugo Hills Coin Club held their second joint meeting at the recent Golden State Coin Show. A wonderful time was enjoyed by all in attendance, including the drawing for prizes. The speaker was Shelby Wagner who spoke on "The Perilous Dilemma Facing the '49ers."

Israel Numismatic Council - Representing our three Southern California Israel coin clubs, the council met during the Golden State Coin Show. COIN president, Jerry Yahalom, made a presentation entitled "Medallic Jerusalem."

IN HONOR OF:

Murray Singer - What a surprise! During the Golden State Banquet, a speechless Murray Singer received the Numismatic Ambassador Award from NASC President, Charles Colver. The past NASC President has dedicated over 40 years to helping the hobby, and we can think of no one more deserving.

Walt Ostromecki - NASC Vice-President, Dr. Ostromecki, was honored by the Culver City Coin Club with the "Myron McClafline Memorial Service Award" at their banquet. Walt has done so much for the Culver City Club and we join with the members in recognizing his achievements.

Mike Dinius - This junior member of the Culver City Coin Club received their newest award, the "Nate Bromberg Junior Achievement Award." We look forward to great things from Mike.

Freddie Grant - Bill's wife was honored by the San Bernardino County Coin Club as the "Member of the Year." This is the most coveted recognition of this outstanding club.

Al Hall - Past NASC President, Al Hall, was the winner of the Nona Moore Award for the best display. This honor is presented annually by the Fontana United Numismatics.

Charles Colver - The Covina Coin Club presented their "Red Comb" award to NASC President Colver at a recent meeting. The "Red Comb" is given to some club member who "goofed" in some way while being of service to the club. The past winners of this award read like a "Who's Who" of the club.

West Valley Award Winners - At their recent banquet, Richard Murachanian received the Russ Snyder Award for the 3rd consecutive year. This award is for exhibiting. Dillon Frost received the Roth Johnson Literary Award and Bob Northam, along with Dillon Frost, were the winners of the George Price Service Award.

Nona Moore & Walter Breen - The Society of International Numismatics presented each of these outstanding numismatists their Medal of Merit at the Golden State Banquet on Saturday evening, January 26th.

EXHIBIT WINNERS GOLDEN STATE SHOW

For those who ventured into the exhibit room at the Golden State Show, there were many outstanding exhibits to delight even the most jaded numismatist. Thanks go to every participating exhibitor!

A deeply philosophical story about how the reputation of numismatists proceeds them.

WHAT ARE THE ODDS?

By Bob Northam

A few years ago, while was employed in Santa Monica at an engineering company, I would have coffee at a certain Norm's Restaurant each day before work.

On one particular morning I brought some papers with me to read and a copy of the West Valley Coin Club's monthly newsletter, "COIN," which was edited by Walter Ostromecki, Jr.

I happen to lay my reading material on the counter with WVCC's "West Valley" peeking out from under the stack, when before long, a bundled-up lady sat down next to me and ordered coffee.

Apparently noticing the words, "West Valley," the lady spoke up, "Excuse me, but do you live in the valley?" I said that I didn't, but persisting, she asked, "Do you know anybody living in the valley?"

After answering, "yes," (but never having made a reference to numismatics), her next question hit me like a gun shot: "Do you know Walter Ostromecki?"

"Know him," I said. "He's my best friend!" "Well, my name is Marie" she said, "and I'm Walter's Mother-In-Law, as his wife, Marin, is my daughter. It turns out that Marie lives nearby, and this chance meeting started several months of early coffee together.

The moral to the story: Carry your local coin club newsletter with you at all times, and you'll be amazed who you meet! Or maybe the moral is, mother's-in-law sure get around!

returned with the autographed book plus the author's regards. Later that year, Richard S. Yeoman passed away.

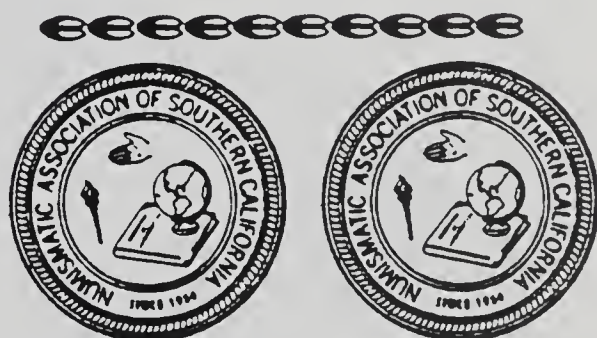

I do not wish to eulogize Dick Yeoman. Nothing I could say would add luster to what has already been written about this kind, gracious, friendly man. His was undoubtedly one of the strongest positive influences on coin collecting in our time. His authorship of the Red Book, Blue Book, Brown Book, White Book (the latter two on World Coins) were part and parcel of the hobby during the past 40 years and no one has done more for it or made a greater impact.

More to the point in this narrative is the development of our singular friendship. This could not be expressed more clearly than by the inscriptions in my books.

The 1st through the 23rd (1970) are simply autographed "R.S. Yeoman." It took until 1971 for me to receive my first personal inscription "Best regards to Murray Singer -R.S. Yeoman." In 1973 the message changed to "My good friend Murray Singer" and in 1975 it changed again to "Best regards to my good friend Murray Singer." It stayed at that each year until 1982, when it became "To my special friend Murray Singer." Thus it remained until 1988 when my friend Dick Yeoman signed the final volume "To my 'old' friend Murray Singer, best regards."

My children and grandson are not interested in coins or coin collecting and I may in time decide to dispose of my coin collection. There are some items that I am very fond of which I am loath to part with because of the nostalgia associated with their procurement or perhaps a special significance that attaches to them. I may or may not decide to keep them.

However, of one thing I am certain, my Red Book set will never be disposed of during my lifetime.

prised, he stooped over to pick one up, and the Soviet Director said, "Go ahead and put one in your pocket. It's ok!" Riter cautioned, "this would never happen (at the U.S. Mints) with their tight security. I would be searched!" The Soviet Director responded, "Not so here!"

Coinage Laws of the United States 1792-1894

With a new foreword by David L. Ganz

Every once in a while, maybe once each year or two, a reference book is published which has you mumbling to yourself, “Why didn’t somebody think of this before?” In the case of Coinage Laws of the United States, 1792-1894, the title was once available — but it’s been out of print for over 95 years!

Obviously, a great deal of important legislation was enacted from 1792 to 1894, from the initial Act which created a U.S. Mint and set forth our coinage system, to the “Crime of ’73,” the Bland-Allison Act, and the Sherman Act of the late 1800’s. My only disappointment with the present reissue is that in re-printing this 1894 volume, the last entry is, of course, 1893. And as any hobbyist knows, much has transpired subsequent to that time. Do I hear the distant sound of a Volume II?

Coinage Laws of the United States, 1792-1894, initially prepared under the direction of the Committee on Finance of the United States Senate, was printed in at least two editions during 1894. According to the book’s Foreword by David Ganz, it was “originally conceived by legislators as a means of showing, in compiled form, the nation’s minting and coinage laws from 1792 into the second century of the United States Mint.” What is particularly useful, in addition to the chronological listing of legislation affecting U.S. coinage, is the margin notations which summarize the individual paragraphs. Also, a subject index keyed to these notations is extremely helpful.

For those who are involved in writing numismatic articles, researchers interested in background material, editors who need to check the facts, or practically anyone else with even a passing fancy in numismatic history, this volume could be this year’s most important addition to your library.

Editor’s Note: Coinage Laws of the United States, 1792-1894, is available from Bowers and Merena Galleries (Wolfeboro, NH).

LAFAYETTE DOLLAR

The Lafayette dollar pays tribute to the French General, Lafayette, for his important role in the American Revolution. The obverse motif centers around the conjoined heads of George Washington and Lafayette, while the reverse features the statue of General Lafayette which was erected in Paris as a memorial gift from the American people.

The Lafayette dollar marked a double milestone in U.S. coinage: First, as the earliest instance of an American president being celebrated on a U.S. coin; Secondary, as the first commemorative of one dollar denomination.

WHY JOIN THE NUMISMATIC ASSOCIATION OF SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA?

Organized in 1954, the Numismatic Association of Southern California is a non-profit organization dedicated to the education and welfare of scholars and collectors of coins and other numismatic materials. It serves the Southern California collecting fraternity and its 58 member clubs. Membership is open to all, even those who reside outside its geographical region.

The Magazine, The N.A.S.C. Quarterly, is published four times a year and distributed to members free of charge. News of the Association, including convention coverage; educational articles; coin trends; junior activities; member club reports and numismatic events; and dealer advertisements are included in the magazine.

At the yearly January Convention, the Association holds a member club benefit gold drawing and presents a number of numismatic awards: Karl M. Brainard Memorial Literary Award for the most outstanding article published in the Quarterly; The President's Trophy for the best member club monthly newsletter; The Richard P. Goodson Award for the individual(s) who have best contributed to numismatics through the N.A.S.C.; and the Maurice M. Gould Junior Achievement Award to the Association's outstanding young numismatist.

The Association holds an annual Convention in the Los Angeles area, which is open to the public, issues a commemorative show theme medal, hosts many outstanding educational forums featuring some of the finest nationally known speakers, features a large dealer bourse from all over the United States and outstanding competitive exhibits. Collectors who display materials in several categories vie for the coveted Abe Kosoff Memorial Best-In-Show Award. Juniors compete for the Junior Best-In-Show sponsored by Galaxie Designs.

In addition to the yearly Convention, the Association sponsors a numismatic workshop for both collectors and non-collectors.

Officers and members are available on the Association's Speaker's List to present educational programs in many fields, or member clubs may use slide programs held by their Visual Education Chairman.

Attached is an application for membership in the Numismatic Association of Southern California. Regular dues are $7.00 a year for individuals and clubs. Why not join us, today!
